Crockett Facilities Services Wins NASA Headquarters Contract for HVAC Services

Five-year contract covering HVAC, preventive maintenance, service calls and repairs

BOWIE, MD (April 19, 2011) — Crockett Facilities Services, Inc. \(CFSI\), a leading provider of building operations and maintenance, mechanical contracting and HVAC services to government and commercial clients, today announced it was awarded a contract by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). CFSI will provide heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) services, along with preventive maintenance services and emergency repairs at NASA's headquarters building located in Washington, DC. The five-year contract that commenced on April 1, 2011 has a total value of approximately $500,000.

Mark Crockett, vice president of Crockett Facilities Services, Inc., said, "It is a privilege to have been selected by NASA as a result of a competitive bid process. We take pride in delivering outstanding customer service, ensuring that work environments are comfortable and that equipment operates at peak performance – especially mission critical data center equipment. We are pleased to add NASA to our list of over 100 buildings that we are servicing in the Washington Metropolitan Area."
